Drug Abuse Screening Test (DAST)

Consisting of 20 questions, the Drug Abuse Screening Test (DAST) assessment tool assists providers with identifying patients who are abusing drugs. The assessment tool may be used by providers or self-administered by patients. This tool measures the patient’s recognition of consequences related to drug use. Alcohol use is not included on the DAST screening tool. For the purposes of the DAST, the term “drug use” refers to using prescribed or over-the-counter drugs in excess of the directions and/or any nonmedical drug use.
